

Communications Internship

The FaithJustice Foundation has an immediate opening for a part-time communications intern to help plan and implement communications strategy for Social Justice Summer 2020.

The FaithJustice Foundation is a new nonprofit organization formed to equip and empower faith communities to take action for social justice. The goal of the FaithJustice Foundation is to provide education, training, and resources to congregations and other faith-based organizations who are or want to be engaged in grassroots, social justice ministry, advocacy, and action.

Social Justice Summer 2020 is a national call to action for congregations and other faith communities to a dedicated time of social justice-themed worship, study, discussion, and action. For 4-6 weeks during Summer 2020, faith communities across the country are invited to offer: a book study on social justice, a social justice sermon series, small group discussion, and at least one social justice action.

RESPONSIBILITIES

The Communications Intern will

- Help coordinate a social media campaign leading up to and coinciding with Social Justice Summer 2020
- Assist with management of website, social media, MailChimp, and other platforms with attention to growing number of followers and expanding online audience
- Work with videographer to create a series of web-based videos on topics related to faith and social justice
- Coordinate and meet with team members as needed to carry out these responsibilities and to further the organization's vision and mission

QUALIFICATIONS

The ideal candidate will possess the following qualifications

- Bachelor's degree required.
- Passionate about social justice and eager to help churches embrace their capacity to take action on social justice issues.
- Experience and/or interest in communications for ministry and faith-based advocacy

- Experience with Wordpress, MailChimp, EventBrite and/or other applications preferred.
- Excellent written and oral communication skills
- Ability to interact constructively with individuals with wide-ranging perspectives
- Experience with social media and other online communications technology

POSITION INFORMATION

Position is a part-time internship, 8-12 hours per week, with a stipend

ACCOUNTABILITY

Intern reports to Communications Manager.

HIRING POLICY

The FaithJustice Foundation is an equal opportunity employer and considers applicants for all positions without regard to race, color, age, gender, national origin, disability, sexual orientation or any other legally protected status.

PROCEDURE AND DEADLINE

To apply, applicants must submit a cover letter and resume. Position available immediately.

Send to:

info@faithjusticefoundation.org